Description

In the summer of 2016, Scott Gregory, having completed a successful career as a special ed teacher, took a 'trip of a lifetime' to Africa, an adventure more than fifty years in the making, deriving from his boyhood experience, his passion and sense of curiosity, and an abundant sense of pride in his heritage. This travel journal, along with its pictures, engages us from the beginning with its sense of excitement, wonder, and the ever-present voice and wit of its author.
